Hy-Vee Tuna Vessel Name List January - October 2023

Report Date: April 2024

Introduction

For the third year in a row, Hy-Vee Inc. and its wholly-owned distribution subsidiary, Perishable Distributors of Iowa (PDI), have produced a tuna vessel name list in partnership with FishWise, a non-profit sustainable seafood consultancy, as a seafood transparency best practice.

The process of collecting vessel name data from suppliers and creating a public tuna vessel names list continues to benefit Hy-Vee's business by providing significant visibility into its fresh, frozen, and shelf-stable tuna supply chains, identifying raw material producers, and proactively engaging with supply chain partners to mitigate risks for illegal fishing activities and social issues. Hy-Vee remains the only U.S. retailer to undertake this type of activity publicly.

FishWise has partnered closely with Hy-Vee since 2011 to establish and guide its nationally recognized Responsible Choice seafood program. In 2023-2024, FishWise worked with Hy-Vee and its various tuna suppliers to collect and verify the names of tuna fishing vessels in Hy-Vee's supply chains and trial new tools that can aid the detection of illegal fishing behaviors at sea.¹

FishWise collected vessel name data from three tuna suppliers supplying private label and national brand products over a 10-month purchase period. Additionally, FishWise, in partnership with Global Fishing Watch, developed a Risk Dashboard to help identify illegal, unreported, and unregulated (IUU) fishing and labor rights risks in Hy-Vee's tuna supply chains. This new tool scrutinized the tuna vessels large enough to appear within the Global Fishing Watch database.

Key Findings

FishWise and Hy-Vee cross-referenced each unique fishing vessel name (excluding handline vessels)² with the ISSF Proactive Vessel Register, Regional Fisheries Management Organizations (RFMO) vessel lists, IUU Vessel List, FishWise Labor Allegations List (non-public resource), and the Global Fishing Watch (GFW) database.

From this activity, FishWise identified 2,149 handline vessels, 58 pole and line vessels, 16 purse seine vessels, four longline vessels, and 62 unconfirmed gear-type vessels contributing to Hy-Vee's various tuna assortments from January to October 2023. The large number of fishing vessels provides valuable insight into the size and complexity of global tuna supply chains.

While public disclosure of supply chain information is relatively common practice in other commodity sectors, a lack of data and verification capabilities has historically impeded efforts to attain transparency in global seafood supply chains.³ As first adopters of this level of supply chain transparency, Hy-Vee and FishWise hope other U.S. retailers will follow suit, normalizing business efforts to achieve greater visibility into seafood supply chains.

Hy-Vee Action Plan

Based on the results of this activity, Hy-Vee will prioritize three actions over the next 12 months:

¹ All participating tuna suppliers elected to remain anonymous for this activity.

² Handline fishing vessels are usually too small to require an IMO, MMSI, or UVI number. These fishing vessels are also too numerous to list in Table 1. Handline fishing vessel names can be made available upon request.

- Continue conducting the tuna fishing vessel transparency activity in 2024-2025 as part of Hy-Vee's seafood supply chain due diligence activities.
- Evaluate tuna supply chain risk and proactively engage suppliers to identify and remediate issues.
- If identified, address non-compliance issues using internal Hy-Vee's Tuna Vessel Remediation Plan and Implementation Guide.

Appendix 1: Tuna Fishing Vessel Name List

Fishing vessel name data has been anonymized and aggregated to protect supplier confidentiality. The identified vessels contributed raw materials to Hy-Vee's private label and national brand tuna assortments from January to October 2023. The fishing vessel name list is not comprehensive, as not all national brand tuna suppliers participated in the activity, and the handline vessels are too numerous to fit within the table (n=2,149). Some fishing vessel names appear multiple times as they supply more than one species to the various assortments. Individual fishing vessels supplying tuna are subject to change year-to-year as sourcing is highly dynamic.
